

Using the Weather & Disease Portal

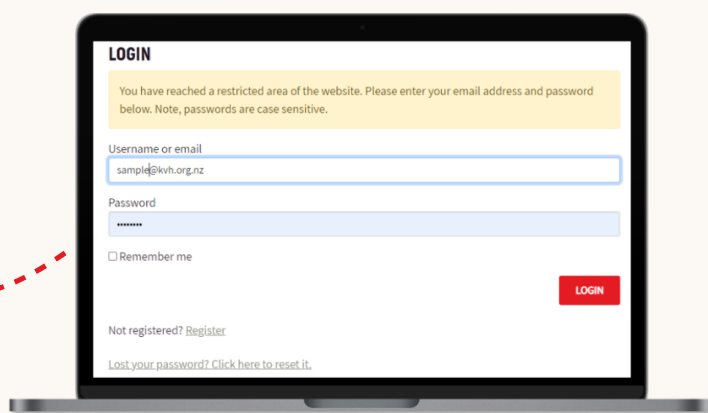

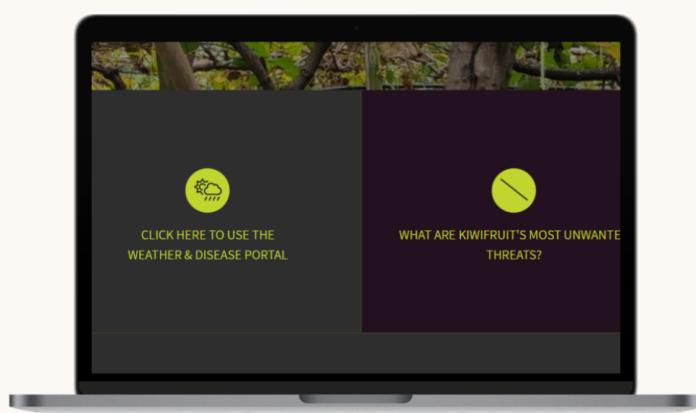

The KVH Weather & Disease Portal is an online, weather-based decision support tool to assist growers with orchard management in a Psa environment. Weather station data and weather forecast information is combined to provide customised access to unique weather information, disease information and interpretations.

Login to the portal

When you go to the KVH website at www.kvh.org.nz you can login to the portal by clicking the button on the left hand side of the home page.

If you don't already have a login and password, or have lost your password, click on this button anyway as the next screen will let you create these.

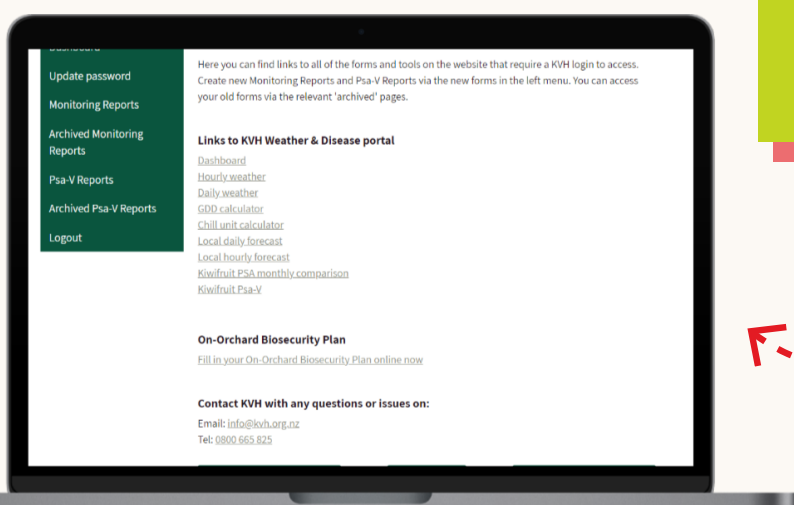

First time?

If you're logging in for the first time you'll have to fill in a simple registration form (name, email, KPIN) so that we can ensure you're not a robot or spam machine. Once we complete your registration you'll get an email confirming you're good to go, can set your password, and start using the portal.

Welcome to the Dashboard

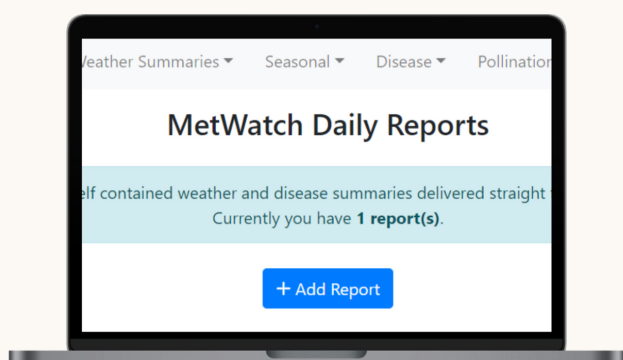

Once you've logged in you can see your Dashboard. Here you can find links to the Weather & Disease Portal, as well as the other forms and tools on the website that require a KVH login to access, including on-orchard biosecurity plans and monitoring reports.

Want daily reports?

You can choose to receive a daily email report for weather and Psa risk information, sent to your inbox. These reports are tailored for kiwifruit growers and come in a convenient and shareable PDF format. You can choose what time of the day the reports are sent, and for which locations.

When logged in click 'Report Manager' on the right hand-side, and then click the blue 'Add Report' button.
